Regular and positive communication and interaction between you and the school make partnering to support your child’s literacy learning possible.

Questions to ask your child’s school

- What are your language and literacy goals for my child and family?
- How is my child doing in language and literacy development?
- How can I share information about my child's language and literacy learning?
- How can I partner with you to develop language and literacy goals for children?
- How can I support my child’s language and literacy goals?
- What does my child need to know and be able to do?

The research reported here is funded by a grant to the National Center on Improving Literacy from the Office of Elementary and Secondary Education, in partnership with the Office of Special Education Programs (Award #: S283D160003). The opinions or policies expressed are those of the authors and do not represent views of OESE, OSEP, or the U.S. Department of Education. You should not assume endorsement by the Federal government. Copyright © National Center on Improving Literacy.