Lucky 7

The name of my super hero is Lucky 7.

The power of my super hero is lucky and he has laser eyes. Also he will be reliable to the world because he can stop crime, bad guys, and Super Villains. He can also fly. But the true power is lucky because he's always winning. If something goes wrong he can come and make it right. Say like he is getting beat and the Super Villain tries to kill.

Some things going to happen to the Super Villain, I mean anything. Lucky has these powers because one day him and his two friends Tony and Jake was going out to this dump place and they find something and start messing with it and playing with it so Lucky took it home trying to experiment with it. When he was doing that it shocked him and he passed out. Next day he woke up and had green eyes and when Lucky was in school he was making bad grades in school and had a test and made a hundred. Some how strange stuff started happening to him and also he could fly and he started to know how to work his powers and he made a cape and came up with the name Lucky 7. His favorite saying is "Today will be a lucky day."

Be a lucky today with clay
